Riding the Grand Staircase In UTAH

Utah is hands down America's outdoor playground. With its unique geological regions, 45 state parks, 5 national parks, 12 national monuments, and 5 national historical sites you can keep yourself busy for weeks. From the Bonneville Salt Flats to Zion National Park, Utah has an incredible zest for adventure.

And while places like Bonneville, Zion, Bryce Canyon and Moab get most of the attention, the largest recreation area in the state is the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument. Running right through the northern half of the Grand Staircase is highway 12, or as its also known, "The Hogsback". The Hogsback runs from Grover, Utah right into Bryce Canyon and is over 100 miles of spectacular highway.

At its most famous section the road runs over the narrow spine of the "hogsback" mesa with the ground falling away on both sides. The opportunities to stop and take in the view or hike to incredible locations like the Lower Calf Creek Falls or the Escalante Petrified Forest are endless and should not be missed. You might be tempted to rush through the Grand Staircase and take in its epic views as you go on your way towards Bryce Canyon, but you would be missing what makes this ride and place so unique.

CRASHLIGHT: Accident Alert System

CRASHLIGHT is a sophisticated technology that automatically detects a motorcycle crash and notifies selected contacts with emergency information and geo-location via voice, SMS text messaging and email. CRASHLIGHT uses the accelerometer, gyroscope and GPS technology in the smartphone, combined with a software algorithm to detect a crash. If you're injured, your contacts can dispatch the most appropriate emergency services to you.

It's a powerful safety app powered by the EatSleepRIDE Motorcycle GPS. And it's an inexpensive way to give your valentine peace-of-mind when you are out on the road. If you don't want to think about it for yourself, do it for your significant other and take the worry out of the ride for your family and friends.

Winter Performance Upgrades

February is the perfect time to start thinking about your winter upgrades, particularly if you want to do some engine work. Getting the jump on ordering your parts and scheduling your appointment now will avoid the spring rush which could leave you without your wheels when the sun starts shining in early spring. If you haven't done it already, Cam work is the best bang for your buck when it comes to performance upgrades. On most V-Twins this upgrade will give you a significant jump in horsepower and torque and won't hurt your checkbook like a full teardown. Make use of your winter downtime and be ready for Spring!
