CASTLES, KILTS AND WHISKY: Riding in Scotland

A motorcycle tour of Scotland should probably be on every biker's bucket List. Scotland is one of the most famous motorcycle destinations in all the world. This United Kingdom gem has it all - amazing scenery, literally thousands of miles of stunning roads in pastoral settings and rocky coastlines, along with historic castles, kilts and, of course, loads of whisky distilleries.

The hardest part of planning a biking road trip to this must-see destination is deciding which part of the country to check out and whether to go it solo or sign up for one of the many professionally guided motorcycle tours that crisscross all over Scotland.

Here is just a sample of the many options for adventurous riders who are ready to experience this stunning location for themselves.

- 1) Castles, Kilts and Whisky Tours: Ayers Adventures is a touring company that offers an 11- day adventure tour designed specifically for bikers. Starting and ending in the capital city of Edinburgh, this tour gives you some of the best the country has to offer: rolling hills, winding roads, historic castles, and visits to multiple well-known whisky distilleries. For details, go to www.ayersadventures.com/uk-tour/
- 2) Coast to Coast in 2 Hours on Scotland's "Route 66": If you are eager to strike out on your own for some solo rides, Scotland has loads of options. Websites like www.livefastdieold.scot/motorcycle-routes-in-scotland/scotlands-route-66/ give a host of descriptive rides for you to choose from, depending on your time frame and the location you want to explore. For example, you can rent a bike and hit Scotland's own "Route 66", for a 2-hour, 80-mile, coast-to-coast ride that will give you a visual feast of dense green Highland vegetation, and breath-taking rocky coasts.
- 3) Whisky Runs Through It and The Tartan Titan: Scotland's rich history and superb scenery makes for a long list of day trip options for any rider. The Whisky Runs Through It and The Tartan Titan are just two of the 25 suggested rides you'll find at www.motorcyclescotland.com.

Whether you opt for a solo day trip or a two-week guided touring adventure, or anything in between, add this one-of-a-kind destination to your bucket list. This rider-friendly country is just waiting to be explored.

for You and Your BIKE

1) Moosehead Hills Cabins, Moosehead Lake, Maine:

The owners of this Maine establishment are bikers themselves. They offer private log cabin rentals with incredible views of lakes, mountains, and spectacular sunsets. Set on 50 acres, you will have lots of opportunities to be close to nature.

2) Abigail's Bed & Breakfast Inn, Ashland, Oregon.

This Southern Oregon Inn offers a biker friendly experience in a quaint town. Built in 1904, this B&B offers period rooms, gardens, and a relaxing front porch, all within walking distance to the small town's restaurants and shops.

3) Tuggles Folly Bed and Breakfast, Aurora, Indiana.

This little gem is the retirement dream of Dean and Debbie Tuggle. Picture a stately colonial style home that offers 15 acres of beautiful scenery perched on a hilltop overlooking the Ohio River.

4) Hacienda del Desierto, Tucson, Arizona. This Premier Bed and Breakfast gives bikers a unique desert experience. Imagine yourself sipping a cool drink while resting under a mesquite tree at the trailhead of this Inn's private nature trail. Resting in the foothills of the Rincon Mountains, this adobe beauty promises relaxation and breathtaking sunsets to boot.

5) Woodbridge Bed and Breakfast of Louisiana, Pearl River, Louisiana.

This little B&B is just 30 minutes north of New Orleans and 5 Miles from Slidell. It boasts lovely gardens under a canopy of centuries old Live Oaks, and gourmet breakfasts, Nawlins' style!

6) Hunt's Lodge Motorcycle Campground, Tellico Plains, Tennessee.

This lodge was designed with the motorcycle traveler in mind and offers both cabins and campsites. It's located right in the heart of some of the best motorcycle roads the South has to offer! Nestled in the foothills just outside the Cherokee National Forest, you are only a 1 1/2 hours ride from the infamous Tail of the Dragon at Deal's Gap.

7) The Black Range Lodge, Kingston, New Mexico. Here guests can step into the Old West and enjoy the feel of the 1880s when Kingston was a wild-west silver mining town! Located in the Gila National Forest of southwest New Mexico, bikers can enjoy local highways that climb 3,000 feet in elevation in about 17 miles, winding up and over the Black Range for dramatic and beautiful vistas.
