The World's Only Motorcycle Rally ON A CRUISE SHIP!

While most of us think of motorcycle rallies as opportunities to experience twists, turns and the open road with a group of fellow bikers, you may be surprised to learn that there's one motorcycle rally that hits the open seas instead. The High Seas Rally bills itself as "The World's Only Motorcycle Rally on a Cruise ship." Once a year Royal Caribbean's Mariner of the Seas ship fills with Motorcyclists and heads for the crystal blue waters of the Caribbean for 7 days and nights. With stops at Cape Canaveral, Coco Cay, Puerto Plata and Labadee, this High Seas Rally is a non-stop party fest for Bikers only.

Gathering riders from all across the world, this unique rally is an all-inclusive event that features loads of live entertainment, with bands and artists like Foghat, Molly Hatchet, and Colt Ford. The weeklong nonstop party boat also features multiple pools, 12 on-ship Bars, a spa, and even a Vegas style Casino, if you're feeling particularly lucky. Because this event is for motorcyclists only, it includes a host of motorcycle vendors, and custom builder demos.

The bad news is that it's too late to jump on this year's wild event since the High Seas Rally set sail last month for its 7-day voyage. But the good news is that you can start making your plans and saving your money now so you can grab your seat for next year's High Seas Rally!
